It will be remembered that at this ex-tra session of the legislature the democrats [then called Republicans] were in favor of the war, and bad control of the State, and at least nine of the twenty-nine acts passed at this time were designed to aid the general government in a vigor-ous prosecution of the war. I take this him it was impossible for this great "nigger" law to have been a good Democratic measure, inasmuch as it had the approval of such magnates of the party as Governor Tompkins, Chief Justice Thompson, Judge Spencer and Judge Yates in the Council, and in the legislature Martin Van Buren, Erastus Root, Nathan Sanford, Lucas Elmendorf, Jonathan Dayton, Peter W. Radeliff, Ogden

Edwards, Wilham C. Bouck, Colonel Young, and others equally prominent. I am not aware that the Governor ever organized these two regiments, but presume he did not, as the immediate exigencies of the service did not require it; and peace was declared early the next ONE OF THE PEOPLE.
